This recognition reflects the confidence investors place in Elia Group and validates our disciplined execution of a long-term strategy focused on sustainable value creation. The strong increase in our market capitalization in 2025 is the direct result of robust operational delivery in Belgium and Germany and a prudent capital allocation."

About Elia Group

A trusted international energy group with strong national roots

Elia Group is an international energy group that designs, builds and operates high-voltage transmission systems in Belgium and in the north and east of Germany. Through Elia Transmission Belgium and 50Hertz, we keep electricity flowing securely across borders and ensure that society, industries and communities can access reliable, affordable and sustainable power. As one of Europe's leading TSOs, we operate a highly interconnected grid that ensures 30 million end users receive electricity with 99.9% reliability. Our role goes far beyond operating the grid: we enable electrification, decarbonisation, and economic competitiveness across Europe.

Powering the energy transition

As the energy transition accelerates, our responsibility has never been greater. We stand at the heart of a profound transformation of Europe's economy and society. Through important infrastructure investments, cross-border interconnections, and the integration of rapidly growing volumes of renewable energy, we are making the transition both possible and practical. We continuously improve our systems, processes and market design to ensure that new technologies and new market players can participate efficiently in a dynamic, digital and flexible energy system.

Always in the interest of society

As a key player in Europe's energy system, Elia Group carries a responsibility that extends far beyond the needs of today. Every line we build, every innovation we introduce, and every decision we take helps shape the world future generations will inherit. The stakes are clear: the choices we make now will determine whether tomorrow's society can rely on secure, affordable and sustainable electricity. Our mission is to steer this transformation with clarity and purpose, ensuring that the grid we design today becomes the foundation on which the prosperity, competitiveness and well-being of the next generations can stand.

An international group with a long-term vision

Beyond system operation, Elia Group offers international consulting and technical solutions through Elia Grid International (EGI), transforming our operational expertise into global partnerships that support system integration and reliability. Through WindGrid, we develop (offshore) transmission solutions that accelerate the energy transition in Europe and beyond.

Together, our entities form a resilient, diverse and high-performing Group. We combine operational excellence with strategic foresight, regulated stability with entrepreneurial agility, and national expertise with an international outlook. This unity strengthens our financial profile, innovation capacity and credibility as a trusted partner.
